Dear Mr. Srebnick:

I am employed by the Office of International Affairs, a component of the Criminal Division of the U.S. Department of Justice. This office is responsible for the transmission and execution of requests for assistance in criminal matters between the United States and Romania.

Romanian authorities have submitted a request for assistance asking us to serve Andrew Emory Tate III with the enclosed documents. We are forwarding the enclosed documents to you as the represented counsel for Mr. Tate at the request of Romanian authorities, are not otherwise involved in the proceedings in Romania and take no position concerning them. As counsel for Mr. Tate, please review these documents carefully for instructions and deadlines. If you have any questions concerning this matter, please contact the Romanian court directly or the Romanian consulate in your area.

Sincerely,

SUMMONS
Issued on 13 October 2026

Dear Madam/Sir,

You are summoned to appear before this Court, Room 239, Panel of judges: cdl44, on 5 November 2026, at 10.00 a.m. as an applicant in the proceedings concerning Challenge to a precautionary measure (Article 250 of the Code of Criminal Procedure) – Order of 3 July 2026.

Please note that:

- The summoned party has the right to a lawyer to assist him at the trial; such a provision does not apply to witnesses.
- Legal assistance is provided when at least one of the lawyers of the summoned party is present; this provision does not apply to witnesses.
- In the cases referred to in Articles 90 and 93 para. 4 of Law no. 135/2010 on the Code of Criminal Procedure, defence is mandatory when the party does not choose a lawyer to represent them at the hearing set, the court shall appoint a defence counsel; this provision does not apply to witnesses.
- In order to exercise their right of defence, the summoned party may consult the case file in the court's archives; this provision does not apply to witnesses.

Translation from Romanian

- The party who, personally, through a representative or freely-chosen defence counsel or through the official or the person in charge of receiving the correspondence, has been legally handed over the summons for a trial period is no longer summoned for subsequent trials, even if he/she fails to appear at any of those trials, except in cases where his/her presence is mandatory according to the law; this provision does not apply to witnesses.

In the event of unjustified failure to appear following summoning or evading the receipt of the summons, a person may be brought before the court on the basis of a warrant to appear.
